TAFT PRAISES THE LAST CONGRESS

Enacted More Helpful Legislation Than Any Congress Since Civil War

LUSTRE DIMMED BY SHORT SESSION

But Many Commendable Things Were Accomplished, Nevertheless—President Voices Disappointment Over Defeat of Tariff Board and Reciprocity in an Address at Atlanta Last Evening.

Atlanta, Ga., March 10.—President Taft in a notable speech before the closing session of the Southern Commercial Congress tonight commended the young men of the new south to take up the political issues of the day from a broad and liberal standpoint, and to exclude from their consideration all narrow partisanship and sectionalism.

His patriotic purpose, "Constitutionally," said the president, "with the patriotic purpose of stimulating the progress of our civilization in every right direction, maintaining our country's property and accumulating its wealth, but always in subordination to higher ethical standards and to the promotion of righteousness and justice."

The president reviewed briefly the accomplishments of the Sixty-first congress, declaring that in its three sessions just closed it enacted more helpful legislation than any congress since the civil war.

Other speakers of national prominence at the closing session of the congress tonight were Gov. Woodrow Wilson of New Jersey, and Secretary of War J. M. Dickinson.

Taft Kept on the Jump.
The president arrived in Atlanta shortly after 11 a. m. today and left his hotel at midday for his vacation. From the moment of his arrival until his departure he was kept on the jump by the numerous requests for interviews and the constant stream of people to the White House, where the president was to be seen.

In the afternoon there was a reception at the governor's mansion, a visit to the University club and dinner at the Piedmont Hotel. The president's speech, just closed, has enacted more helpful and progressive legislation in its three sessions than any congress since the civil war. The close of his third, his last and his shortest session was obscured by such an apparent clogging of business as to leave the impression that he had done at that session little or nothing in the way of helpful laws. It is due to this impression, for it has done a number of things that deserve commendation during the last three months.

Reduced Cost of Appellate Cases.
One of the crying evils of the present day is the expense of litigation. This congress has passed an act making substantial reductions in the cost of appealing cases from the courts of first instance to the courts of appeal. It has adopted a revised code of the laws creating federal courts and fixing their jurisdiction, and has increased the salaries of the supreme court just about $5,000 a year. The cost of appeals has been reduced $5,000. And it has finally done the justice to provide general judges with traveling expenses.

Has Increased Railroad Safety Appliances.
It has added to the safety appliances for the prevention of injury to rail-

Cabled Paragraphs

Honolulu, March 10.—Twenty-five cases of cholera, with twenty-one deaths, is the record up to date. Of these twenty-four were Hawaiians and one Portuguese.

London, March 10.—After a continuous sitting of nineteen hours, the house of commons rose at 10 o'clock this morning. Stormy weather made the session right up to the close.

Puerto Cortes, Honduras, March 10.—The American and British blue-jackets were withdrawn from San Pedro Sula, yesterday, and the town turned over to the representatives of the Honduran government.

Paris, March 10.—Laying Hart, the supposed American, who charges that he was fleeced out of $50,000 by three Italians, with whom he visited gambling resorts, turns out to be a German whose home is in Frankfurt.

London, March 10.—The trustees of the National gallery have announced that they will neither buy Rembrandt's famous picture, "The Mill," nor will they appeal to the public to subscribe to a fund for that purpose.

Berlin, March 10.—Today's papers state that a big safe robbery occurred at the palace of Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg last night. The detectives of the criminal department, however, insist that the affair was insignificant and that they are on the track of the thieves.

SEVERAL CONTESTS FOR THE GOVERNMENT PLUMS

Incoming of Democratic Congress to Involve Changes on Federal Payrolls.

Washington, March 10.—"Who's who" in the next organization of the house is being gradually framed in the incoming of the democratic congress. The first congress and the convening of the extra session of the Sixty-second congress with the democrats in control.

In the short session the officers of the line of the army were increased by 20, the quartermasters by 50, and the engineers by 80, a very wise provision for the purpose of attack.

Strengthened the Navy.
In the naval bill the strength of our navy is materially increased. The same congress provided for the fortification of the Panama canal. There were good men who insisted that the canal ought to be neutralized and not fortified at all. The result would have been that while we could have used the canal we built in time of war to defend ourselves, we could not prevent our enemy from using the same canal for the purpose of attack.

With due deference to those who have taken this view, it seems to me that this is carrying the love of peace to an illogical extreme, in adhering to a mere shibboleth and not treating the subject with the common sense and practical view it deserves.

Defeated Tariff Board Bill.
A great disappointment of the session was the final defeat of a permanent tariff board of five. While this bill failed, the session was not made by appropriation in the sundry civil bill for the continuance of a board which had already expired.

The same kind of investigation and to accumulate the same kind of information.

In the sundry civil bill there is the same continuing appropriation for the development of an investigation which it is hoped will lead to increased efficiency and economy in the administration of the government.

Simplified Postal Savings System.
In the postoffice department the machinery for the postal savings bank has been simplified and improved, and that plan for the encouragement of the postoffice is well begun and will in time to the benefit of the people.

Ratified Treaty With Japan.
Finally, and the most important thing which was done in the session just closed was the ratification of the treaty with Japan.

Disappointed on Reciprocity.
Of course, the greatest disappointment of the session was the failure of the senate to follow the lead of the house in ratifying the reciprocity agreement with Canada.

Miss McComber begged for the postponement of her arrest until after the death of her parents. They were more than 70 years old, she said, and she did not want them to know of her disgrace. The request was denied, but her plea that she be not arrested at home was granted.

"I could not give my father and mother the comforts they needed in their old age on my salary," Miss McComber told the court. "I told them that I was a high official of the company and made a good salary."

San Antonio, Texas, March 10.—Colonel John L. Clem, quartermaster-general of the department of Texas, today received orders from Washington to procure provisions for four months for 10,000 men. Twenty thousand troops are expected to bilge on the border, but it is thought that half that number will be detailed elsewhere than San Antonio.

The order for the provisions is generally taken as proof that the military is about to move.

bilization does not have drill and field practice for its ultimate object. The men believe that they are to see real service before long. The heavy supplies of ammunition are the basis of their belief. When the Seventeenth regiment left Fort McPherson the men jumped to this conclusion. They saw the roof of the barracks with their cheers. The trip here was made in 48 hours without mishap.

City of Tents Arrived the First.
They found the ground northeast of Fort Sam Houston surveyed and watered. Today a city of tents sprang up. Large tents are used. It took the city of tents a fair time to get the department of Texas, just 24 hours to lay a half mile of water pipe into the camp, despite the fact that there was not at first enough tubing in town for the construction. General Duncan whipped the Moros on the island of Iloilo so thoroughly several years ago that they have not made an organized resistance since.

The camp is a fairly large one. The temperature today ranged around 50 degrees, but the air was clear and dry. A rarity. There were no hangers, one for Lieut. Foulis and the repaired aeroplane which recently divided into the Rio Grande, and another one for a private individual.

Also in camp are several billion-dollar typhoid bacilli. They are contained in the gymnasium of 300 members of the Seventeenth.
